Mission Statement

The Capital Area Genealogical Society was formed in 1982 to foster genealogical research in Dauphin and Cumberland Counties in Pennsylvania. The objectives of the Society shall be to create and to foster an interest in genealogy, encourage the preservation of genealogical materials, and to publish a quarterly journal whose information relates mostly to the counties of Dauphin and Cumberland in the state of Pennsylvania.

Membership Information

Membership dues are $15.00 annually for both individual and family memberships. New members are always welcome. In addition to monthly meetings, other activities of a historical and genealogical nature are planned throughout the year. The Society welcomes all who have an interest in genealogy and family history no matter if they are new or seasoned researchers.

Cemetery Database

The Society, through its website, maintains a database of over 112,000 burials in over 240 cemeteries located in Dauphin County, Pennsylvania. This database is completely searchable by name and cemetery. This is an invaluable resource for those doing research in the Harrisburg and Dauphin County areas. In addition the Society maintains a number of printed cemetery listings in its Research Library.

Research Library

The Research Library is open prior to each meeting for the benefit of those who wish to come and browse through the books, periodicals, and other materials the Society has accumulated for genealogical and historical research. There is no fee for the use of the library, although donations are appreciated.

The library is open from 1:15 p.m. until the start of the meeting at 2:30 p.m. If there is interest, the library will re-open following the meeting and speaker's presentation and will stay open during the social hour.
